

Rock formed of sediments - fragments of igneous, metamorphic or older sedimentary rocks.  are carried by winds, water, or glaciers, then buried to harden into rock.

PARENT OF ALL ROCKS

Rocks formed by cooling and solidification of molten material.

Rock that has changed chemical composition or texture as a result of deformation or increased temperature.

